

BOATERS' DIRECTIONS. This sign on Roman Road on Chouteau Island usually warns motorists of a sharp turn coming. However, the warning now is more appropriate for boats as high water plagued the island after heavy rains last week. The water is one to two feet deep. A levee on adjoining Gabaret Island has broken, causing flooding there.

Chouteau flood threat ends

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

The threat of the Mississippi River rising over the Chouteau Island levee late last week forced 30 persons who were pregnant or had serious medical problems to seek shelter with relatives away from the island. The danger of the river topping levees has subsided there, but adjacent Gabaret Island has flooded.

On Chouteau Island, ground water, forced to the surface by high water in both the river and the Chain of Rocks Canal, partially covered low-lying roads on the island and surrounded three mobile homes with water. The crest on the river in St. Louis was 39.2 feet and the river sank to 37.29 feet by 10 a.m. Friday.

Ed Harris, director of the Madison County Emergency Services and Disaster Agency (ESDA), said those people were moved in case the river went over the levee and flooded the entire island.

Only the tops of the levees and several farm structures were visible on adjacent Gabaret Island, as the river overflowed the main levee. All 500 acres farmed by Leonard Schaefer on the island were flooded, but Schaefer was able to move his mobile home and farm equipment to the main levee by the canal.

According to Harris, approximately 150 people helped the ESDA and the Army Corps of Engineers put sandbags on levees on the northern part of the island Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday to protect the populated portions of the island. The Corps also had sandbags (two bolts to prevent Old Bower Levee near Mitchell Pond from breaking Thursday.

People from the Corps and the Chouteau, Nameoki and Venice Drainage District walked the levees all of last week to find weak portions in both the large and small levees on the island.

Despite winds from the southeast which were clocked at 40 mph Friday, no significant amount of water blew over the levees, workers reported. However, had winds blown from the southwest or west, water from the river would have flooded parts of Chouteau Island.

Although only one of the 38 families on the island had left, many families had to clear debris which floated into their yards on the high water caused by seepage.

Robert Skinner, a farmer who lives on Chouteau Island, said at least half of the wheat crop on the islands was lost because of the high water. Louis Cionko, another farmer on the island, lost 60 acres of wheat.

Farmers on the island agree that the first week of July will be the earliest they will be able to plant this year's crop. Most farmers will be planting soybeans, one of the few crops which can be planted late and mature before the first frost.

Harris said it would be senseless to pump standing water from the flooded residential areas on the island because of the high pressure on the ground water, which will continue to seep through as long as the river is high.

The Illinois State Police and the Madison County Sheriff's Department provided security for the island by keeping out sightseers and four-wheel vehicles. Harris contended that four-wheel drive trucks had weakened portions of the levees.

Justice wasn't obstructed—wife

"Tom is guilty of the (Stix & Co.) fraud, but he is not guilty of the (obstructing justice) charges he is indicted for," Mrs. Thomas R. (Janice) Brimberry, 36, said at a press conference Thursday afternoon.

The stock brokerage collapsed in November 1981 after being looted of millions of dollars. Brimberry was its senior vice-president in charge of operations.

Flying from Arizona to St. Louis to meet newsmen, the blonde former Granite City resident said her husband will not plead guilty and instead will present a strong defense at his trial opening May 16 in Alton. She has been granted immunity from prosecution.

"At no time have Tom and I tried in any way to cover up or lie about our involvement in the Stix fraud," she said in a prepared statement, read at the Airport Marriott Hotel. Acknowledging that he told the Post-Dispatch the previous day that he planned to plead guilty to five of 15 pending charges, Mrs. Brimberry said she will persuade him not to do so. "I'm just not going to let him."

He has "emotional problems" and "would plead guilty to anything just to spend some time with his (three) children," she commented.

Although a federal judge and prosecutors have said he might be insane, he is not, she stressed. "No way. He's just under a lot of pressure."

Conceding that Brimberry has been making many telephone calls, she noted that he has been in jail five months and desperately "wants to talk to somebody."

He called her hotel room Thursday and was assured that all is going well.

"He's driving me up the wall," Mrs. Brimberry remarked. "I know it's not easy for him."

Predicting that her husband will be found innocent of concealing information and of lying, she said, "Tom exposed the fraud himself. The fraud was not under investigation if it hadn't been for Tom, it could have taken them a year to unravel the case," she said.

She voiced displeasure that the government is relying on testimony from such persons as Jerry Mierze and her brother, Arthur Miller Jr., both of whom have pleaded guilty. She made it clear that her loyalty is with her husband.

"I'm behind him. He needs me right now and I'm there for him to lean on."

She said she planned to visit him the next day at the U.S. Medical Center for Federal Prisoners, Springfield, Mo., where he has undergone psychiatric testing.

She utilized the news conference to accuse the federal government of renegeing on its arrangement to prosecute him only on a minor tax charge.

Under the plan, Brimberry was to cooperate fully and truthfully. Prosecutors later concluded he had not done so.

He has not been charged in connection with the looting of customer accounts but the government has said in recent days that it plans to file such charges.

"Why should he be judged innocent?" "We have lived up to our agreement. We haven't lied or tried to cover up. He was under a great deal of pressure when he made statements to the grand jury."

GC city sticker crackdown pledged

A familiar sight in Granite City about this time each year is police officers at roadblocks writing tickets for motorists who failed to obtain their vehicle wheel tax stickers (city stickers) in time. That sight will return once again next week.

Granite City Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer is giving fair warning that police officers will be out Monday morning, May 16, stopping cars and checking for city stickers. Those who don't have them will face fines of up to $100.

The price of a city sticker, now $5 for cars and higher for trucks, according to weight, will double to $10 for cars and $5 higher for all other stickers after 5 p.m. Friday. Senior citizens may purchase one city sticker each for $1 through 5 p.m. Friday at the Granite City Clerk's office in City Hall. Beginning Monday, they also will cost $10.

Motorcycle stickers also are available at the city clerk's office and motorcycleists without them are subject to arrest beginning May 16.

So, with only this week to go, motorists are being advised to purchase their vehicle stickers before the weekend. Automobile stickers are on sale at the city clerk's office weekdays from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. as well as at First Granite City National Bank and branch, Granite City Trust and Savings Bank and branch, American Heritage Bank and Colonial Bank of Granite City during regular bank lobby hours.

Commencement exercises for pupils in Venice Junior High School will be conducted at 1:15 p.m. on Wednesday, May 25, and the Venice High School graduation ceremony will be at 7 o'clock that night.

The final day of classes at all Venice public schools will be during the morning of Thursday, May 26. The pick-up bus time for junior high and senior high students is 8:30 a.m. Thursday, grades four through seven at 9:30 a.m. and kindergarten through grade three at 10:30 a.m. After report cards are distributed, the students will be dismissed.

Venice butter fiasco

Venice Township officials found themselves in an unusual situation Friday, having too much of a good thing.

According to Township Supervisor Christ Pashoff, an unexpected shipment of U.S. government surplus butter arrived unannounced Thursday and was given to the township for the needy.

"We had no notice and no chance to notify the newspaper," Pashoff said. By word of mouth, many people found out and a good deal of the butter was given away by Friday afternoon.

But not all of it. The problem, what to do with the 350 pounds not given away by 3:30 p.m. Friday? "We'll just turn up the air conditioners here (in the township office) all weekend. It should keep it cool," Pashoff predicted Friday.

Needy citizens in Venice Township are being advised that the free butter giveaway will continue, at two pounds per family, today at the township office, 1502 Fifth St., while the supply lasts.

Owners are urged to inoculate pets

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

Pet owners are being advised to take advantage of a rabies inoculation clinic in Granite City Saturday.

Despite a confirmed case of rabies in Fairview Heights last week and reported increases of the disease among wild animals in the state, a Madison County official said there is no cause for alarm in the area, yet.

Pet owners should, however, make certain their animals are vaccinated against rabies, said Terry Brookman, supervisor of the Madison County Rabies Control Center in Edwardsville. Saturday's rabies clinic is scheduled from 1 to 4 p.m. at the animal shelter on Missouri Avenue. The staff of the Bellefonte Animal Hospital will vaccinate dogs and cats for $6 per shot. Distemper and parvo vaccinations also will be available.

"Madison County has been very fortunate. There haven't been any (confirmed) cases of rabies in dogs or cats since 1973 or '74," he said. But Brookman underscored the importance of vaccinating pets against rabies.

There was a confirmed case of a rabid skunk last year near the east border of the county in Highland, he said.

Throughout the state, however, "there's really been an epidemic in the last two years," with some 500 reported cases of rabies, Brookman added.

A Fairview Heights man was bitten April 19 by his mother's dog and tests at a state laboratory in Centuria confirmed that the dog had rabies. The man has begun a series of rabies shots.

Brookman said that anyone bitten in Madison County by an animal they suspect to be rabid should contact the rabies control office in Edwardsville at 1-492-4429.

If the animal has been vaccinated, it will be quarantined at home. If it has not, it will be euthanized.

College quality commended

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Likely to become the biggest Downstate community college district with the addition of its Granite City Center enrollment in August, Belleville Area College also is striving to be the best.

Maximum accreditation, spanning ten years, was accorded last week by the North Central Association after five representatives spent May 1-4 in District 522.

The team was impressed with the college district's plans to expand its day offerings in Granite City. Team members praised the facilities available here after seeing both GCHS

North and GCHS South.

The accreditation team will recommend that North Central schedule a "focus visit" in 1986 to study the success of the Granite City Center and to review the progress of all segments of the college toward improving communications.

Bi-State's waste-to-energy plan advances

The Bi-State Development Agency's Board of Commissioners heard a report on the status of the Agency's Resource Recovery project at its regular monthly meeting last week.

Project team members reported that the project is on schedule with construction to begin this fall.

In January, the board of commissioners selected International Incinerators, Inc., of Columbus, Ga., to construct a resource recovery facility in the city of St. Louis. Carl Avers, president of Thermal Resources of St. Louis, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of I.I.I., and Youngstown Thermal Corporation of Youngstown, Ohio, which will own, operate and maintain the Ashley facility and operate and maintain the downtown district heating system, gave the commissioners a brief description of the project and reported on the progress of contract development, negotiations and engineering.

Avers explained that negotiations are underway with Union Electric Co. to purchase the 22-mile underground network of steam pipes in downtown St. Louis and UE's Ashley Street power plant. He said that engineering and technical details are being worked out now and negotiations in principle, including a purchase price, should be completed within the next few weeks. Weekly negotiations also are being conducted between Bi-State, the city of St. Louis and International Incinerators to draft a contract for project construction.

Thermal Resources of St. Louis, Inc., which will be responsible for marketing the steam produced by the facility, has held a series of meetings with current and prospective users of the district heating system, Avers said. Reaction to the proposed steam service has been favorable. Comments and suggestions resulting from the meetings are being incorporated in a steam supply agreement now being drafted, he said.

Bi-State will issue the tax-free industrial revenue bonds to finance construction of the resource recovery facility and the purchase and renovation of the Ashley Street plant and district heating system. Bi-State's bond and legal counsel are continuing to review and give input to the necessary contracts in preparation for their sale later on this year, Avers said.

Union Electric Company has asked Bi-State and Thermal Resources to begin preparation of the technical procedure for divestiture of the district heating system by the Missouri Public Service Commission. Avers told the board, this procedure, along with the negotiated contracts, will result in the district heating system being owned by Bi-State with marketing and operations by Thermal Resources.

Avers said engineering work by CH2M-Hill, Alberici Construction Company and Fleming and Associates has resulted in a preliminary architectural design and site and process layout. He said applications for the necessary building permits will be made within the next 90 days.

Bi-State's Resource Recovery project calls for the construction of a plant to process up to 900 tons per day of municipally-collected solid waste from the city of St. Louis to be turned in steam and sold to users of the St. Louis District Heating System.

Revenues from the sale of the steam and from tipping fees charged for acceptance of the solid waste are expected to pay for construction, operation and maintenance of the facility. No public tax monies are involved in the project.

BLOOD DRIVE. Samuel Price, a senior from Madison High School, receives a hand from Ruth Jack, a volunteer at the Red Cross Blood drive at the high school last week. Because school was closed early Thursday because of the boil order given by the Illinois-American Water Company, only 40 pints of blood were given. Price was the last person to give blood at the drive. (Press-Record Photo.)

Hines is named BAC's Administrator-of-Year

James J. Hines of Belleville was awarded Belleville Area College's Administrator of the Year award for 1983.

Hines, BAC's vice president of administrative services, was given the award at the April 20 board meeting by Clara Beatty, BAC's chief accountant and last year's recipient.

BAC President Bruce Wissore, who selects the winner along with his staff, said Hines was chosen for this year's award because of his hard work and dedication to his job. "Because of what Jim has accomplished this year, he has shown the kind of attitude and success which we think should exemplify our administrative style," Wissore said.

Hines holds a master's degree from Washington University in St. Louis and a bachelor's degree from Southwest Missouri University in Springfield. He has also done extensive graduate work.

Scout Troop attends Lincoln Pilgrimage

Members of Boy Scout Troop 7, sponsored by St. Joseph Catholic Church traveled to Springfield, Ill., to participate in the 38th annual Lincoln Pilgrimage.

The Abraham Lincoln Council, BSA, sponsored the first pilgrimage to the tomb of President Lincoln in 1946. Troops of the council were soon joined by Boy Scout troops from several states. In recent years the council has been assisted in paying tribute to the former president by Camp Fire Youths and Girl Scouts. An estimated 15,000 attended this year's pilgrimage.

Local scouts traveled on the Amtrak train to Springfield and upon arrival there visited the Old State Capitol building, the church that Lincoln attended and the Lincoln War Museum.

After lunch, they attended the ceremonies in front of the tomb which is located at Oak Ridge Cemetery. Eagle Scout George F. Cahill delivered the tribute to Lincoln. He has been associated with the Boy Scouts of America for more than 45 years. Currently he is president of the National Flag Foundation and the Flag Plaza Foundation, both of which he created and founded.

After the ceremonies, the scouts paraded with other scout units to the State Capitol Building and concluded their stay in Springfield by visiting the Illinois State Museum.

Attending were Kevin Williamson, Mark, Mike and Joyce Brazel, Steve, Joe, Stephen and Melissa Kusmierczak, Tom Scaturro, Ralph Walden Jr., Ralph Walden Sr., Greg and Robert Hagen.

The following week the troop motored to Beaver Dam Lake State Park for a camping adventure. The theme for the weekend event was Personal Fitness and while there the scouts completed some of the requirements for the Personal Fitness Merit Badge.

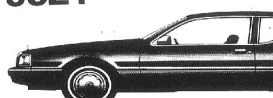

Activities included a mile-walk, 600 yard run and 50-yard dash.

Other activities included a night hike along the many trails that the park has to offer, a muddy one-pitch softball game, a croquet tournament, fishing derby and a flash light tag game. Attending were Mark and Mike Brazel, Tom Scaturro, Greg Hagen and Ralph Walden Jr. Transportation was provided by Larry Williamson Sr. and Ralph Walden Sr.

Man alleges contract violations

A Madison man has filed suit against Granite City Glass Co., 1746 Edison Ave., and the International Association of Bridge, Structural & Ornamental Iron Workers Local No. 392 and its officers.

Alfred Endicott Jr., alleges wage provisions of his contract were violated by the company, the union and its officers, because he was paid less than the hourly wage agreed upon during collective bargaining.

The suit also claims that Endicott was paid less than the double rate of overtime for work in excess of eight hours and work on Saturday, Sunday and holidays.

Count two alleges that the union officials "failed to take any effective action and by deliberate inaction... encouraged the said breaches and violations to stand and continue."

Endicott is seeking in excess of $15,000 with interest and costs in the case which was assigned to Third Circuit Judge Charles Chapman.

3-yr. term in burglary

In response to a Granite City burglary occurring Nov. 23, 1982, Ronald Saunders, 28, East St. Louis, has been sentenced to serve three years in prison.

Charged the same month, he submitted a guilty plea Dec. 30 and appeared for sentencing this spring before Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill.

Awards reflect our efforts

"If you don't put your own back, who will?" is the old expression. OK, we will.

We are very proud of our awards in the Southern Illinois Editorial Association Newspaper Contest and we hope it shows our readers that we are working hard to bring you an accurate, interesting and comprehensive view of your community.

Reporter Georgeann McGee's series on lead pollution brought the top award in the community service category, topping all entries from all newspapers in Southern Illinois, weeklies and dailies (more than 110 papers were in the contest). Her series was judged by professionals as better than those on campaigns to save the local ambulance service in Carlyle, a series that led to tightened drinking water requirements in Lawrenceville, a program to establish a YMCA in Vandalia and many, many others.

Roger Kramer's top prize for best feature story on "Laslo Szeeles" (two loves: soccer and America) again topped all entries, from all size papers. It was tough competition.

William F. "Bill" Winter's admission into the Southern Illinois University Journalism Hall of Fame and his receiving of the coveted "Golden Era" for a career dedicated to newspapering and his community marks the second former Press-Record editor to achieve that honor, the first being C.E. "Corky" Townsend.

We appreciate the awards, but we appreciate more the loyalty of our readers and advertisers. We are working hard 104 newspaper issues per year to see that each and every issue lives up to our reputation as your community newspaper for the past 80 years. A trust we will try hard every issue to live up to.

Poll shows higher credibility

Speaking of newspaper credibility, we were happy to see a new Louis Harris and Associates poll which shows newspaper readers believe newspapers have improved in accuracy, analysis and completeness in the last eight years.

However, the poll also carries some "stingers." It says that newspaper publishers do not have a good grasp of readers' news interests and regard their readers as "rather local yokels," not giving them enough national and international news and analysis.

The Harris poll rates newspapers six percentage points higher in accuracy than in 1974. Newspapers also were 10 points higher in readers' opinion for ability to explain the news and nine points higher at being more complete than eight years ago.

Although newspapers have improved their ratings on accuracy, they remain 15 points behind TV's ranking, the poll says.

Harris commends newspapers for scoring "quite a big comeback" in earning more trust, according to Editor & Publisher.

Polio threat not yet eliminated

With consumers applauding throughout the state, the Illinois Senate Agriculture and Environment Committee gave 11-0 approval last week to legislation that Illinois Commerce Commission Chairman Philip O'Connor says can significantly lower natural gas costs, particularly in Downstate areas.

Legislation giving the ICC authority to order natural gas distributors to interconnect pipelines and find cheaper supplies advanced to the Senate floor. As they approved it, senators from both parties praised O'Connor for developing the concept.

The commission chairman said it is hoped to break the "anti-competitive" nature of the gas pipeline business and the federal Natural Gas Policy Act. He blamed these factors for artificially high gas prices in recent months during a time when there is a natural gas surplus.

One of the bills would allow the ICC to order utilities which directly distribute natural gas to connect their pipeline systems so they could buy from the supplier selling the cheapest gas. This could result in Downstate utilities being able to buy from the pipeline company with the lowest price in the state; that supplier now sells only to Northern Illinois Gas Company.

In contrast, one of the higher priced distributors is Panhandle Eastern. It is involved in pipeline construction through Canada and is buying costly liquefied gas from Algeria.

O'Connor said the ICC has heard evidence this spring from natural gas drillers in the U.S. who said Panhandle and certain other pipelines supplying Illinois have refused to buy their less expensive gas.

A second bill would allow the ICC to order utilities to create "joint action companies" to purchase natural gas "at just and reasonable rates."

O'Connor said Panhandle's recent announcement that it was lowering its prices was "not enough" and that "we need to keep the pressure on."

He also noted recent U.S. Justice Department opinions indicating utilities may be able to break long-term contracts with pipeline firms for high-priced gas supplies.

The pending legislation ought to be given position consideration in both the Senate and House.

Those who qualify for commendation for their quiet courage surely include the victims of polio.

The ailment is no longer a household word but it certainly has not been forgotten by 300,000 people who Americans still remember who were paralyzed in the epidemic that struck in 1949 and continued into the 1950s.

About 350, including 200 disabled, met in St. Louis May 6-8 for the Rehabilitation Gazette's second post-polio conference, featuring a symposium on living independently with severe disability.

The conference marked the 25th anniversary of the International Gazette, published by a volunteer staff and based in St. Louis. It attempts "to reach, to inform and to dignify disabled people throughout the world."

Topics of the 71 speakers, 44 of them disabled, included advancements in understanding post-polio aging problems, proof of the economy of home care, and various aspects of independent living.

Conference participants set as their goal worldwide immunization against polio, creation of a polio handbook, and establishment of a national network to function as a polio information source for medical practitioners.

Along with educating the medical profession about polio and treatment of polio survivors, efforts will be made to raise the level of public awareness of polio. It has not been eradicated, and outbreaks of polio because of current apathy about following suggested immunization programs.

Polio also remains a real threat to improperly immunized travelers visiting developing countries where polio is still endemic.

An area of new ground for polio survivors is the problem of premature aging, in which they experience weakness in muscles they have relied upon over the years.

A positive aspect of the long fight against paralysis is that lessons learned from the post-polio experience can be applied generally to the aging and the disabled. Polio survivors' long use of artificial respirators is being adapted for persons having muscular dystrophy and for those with high-level spinal cord injuries who require respirators.

Amy Lynn Hardin waiting for life-saving liver transplant

By DONNA KIMBRO
of the Press-Record

Hope that Amy Lynn Hardin, the 11-month-old child suffering a fatal liver disease, would receive a liver transplant diminished Friday when the parents of a donor decided against giving up the organ of their dead child.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hardin flew to Minneapolis Thursday after being notified by the University of Minnesota Hospitals that there was a possible donor. Amy Lynn was admitted immediately upon arrival and necessary tests were run in preparation for the operation.

According to hospital authorities, Amy was "loaded with fluid" and they were putting an IV (intravenous tube) in to eliminate it.

A child-abuse victim and the death is being investigated for possible criminal prosecution, the family was told. Doctors now are working to correct Amy's partially-collapsed right lung, which was caused by another problem.

As soon as the family and hospital learned of the refusal of the kidney donation from the dead child, a notice was sent to 110 centers nationwide that coordinate the search for organs for transplants of all kinds.

There still is hope that a donor will be found in time to give new life to the infant, who weighs about 14 pounds and cannot live without the transplant.

As soon as people in this metropolitan area learned of the plight of the small child, many fund-raising events were planned to raise the necessary $250,000, which the family had to guarantee before the operation could be performed.

Funds have been collected from various affairs sponsored by labor unions, sports teams and from individual organizations, including several in the Quad-City area, to compile the amount of money needed.

Tri-Cities American Legion Post 113

hosted a dinner dance to benefit Amy Lynn and collected $1,505. The benefit dance hosted by the Happy Strings Tambourines netted a similar amount. Also, the Potty Mouth CB Club hosted a dance in March with the profits to be divided between the Shriner's Crippled Children's Hospital and Amy Hardin Trust Fund.

All contributions were sent to the DuPage State Savings Bank, where the trust fund was set up and if, for some reason the money is not used for Amy Hardin, the remaining funds will go to the Pittsburgh Children's Hospital in Pittsburgh, Pa., for anything concerning liver transplants.

Believes new tax bill can spur investment

To the Editor:

President Reagan's tax reform bill could be the stimulus needed to lure investors back into long-term investments.

The tax bill and investor behavior will have a great influence on the Federal Reserve and, ultimately, on lower interest rates.

Long-term capital investment has been extremely unattractive to the private sector in the past few years, due to both the high interest rates involved in borrowing money and the new, attractive short-term investment possibilities.

To remedy this, the Federal Reserve Board, the major instrument in determining the money supply at any given time, must ease up on interest rates over the long term and allow the money supply to grow at a faster rate.

The Fed should create an environment whereby interest rates can come down while savings and borrowing continue to rise. This means the Fed cannot step on the brakes the minute the money supply exceeds its target range; to do so stifles economic recovery.

The new tax reform act could help to create the right environment. The effect of the tax increase is both real and psychological. It is real because it could cut the national deficit by as much as 30 percent over the next three years.

The financial markets must be very relieved at this step toward fiscal responsibility, which may set the psychological stage for recovery.

The bill will not discourage capital investment, mainly because the increase in taxes will come from many areas of the economy, closing once-legal loopholes instead of penalizing investors.

The bill is definitely bipartisan. It involves several compromises, because both the Republican and Democratic "sacred cows" are affected.

It will all be worthwhile if the marketplace deems that this bill is the right medicine for achieving responsible fiscal policy.

Such stable fiscal policy should encourage the Fed to keep interest rates at reasonable levels for a long period of time. This, in turn, will stimulate an economic recovery and spur long-term investment once again.

Because investors are likely to try to lock in on high interest rates in a declining market, I believe that long-term rates will drop in sympathy with short-term rates. Rational behavior will dictate the purchase of long-term debt instruments.

Chomko says election showed the Madison machine slipping

To the Editor:

The only thing I admire about the Madison city organization is their guts. They have the audacity to brag about last month's election results.

In the three contested aldermanic elections the organization candidates got a total of 816 votes. The opposition candidates got a total of 798 votes.

The once-powerful Madison machine got a grand plurality of 17 votes. That is pathetic. This is the worst performance by the Madison machine in the history of the city of Madison for an aldermanic election. Any precinct committeeman in Granite City could carry his one single precinct by more than 17 votes.

Yet, in the May 2, Press-Record, in a letter attacking me, signed by "One of the Majority in Madison," the writer brags about Mayor Sasyk's "majority."

Concerned Madison's warning system didn't sound on May 1

To the Editor:

I and several other citizens of Madison would like a response from our city officials as to why this city's tornado warning system was not activated on the evening of May 1, when it was most needed at that time?

As to my knowledge, the warning system at the Madison fire station has been inoperative for the past two years and the warning system that is located at the Madison Recreation Center on Seventh Street was closed for the weekend that this incident occurred. We would like to know why such a warning system was placed at a site that is not going to be open for such an emergency warning?

To assure the safety of all of our citizens, I and many others feel that this warning system should be tested on a monthly basis to make sure that it is operating properly and that someone should be there to activate the system when it is needed when threatening conditions exist, such as on May 1.

Bids for resurfacing of Madison Ave. top estimate

Bids for resurfacing 1.61 miles of Madison Avenue from Second Street in Madison to 20th Street in Granite City were opened Friday and the lowest bid was nearly 13 percent higher than the state engineer's estimate for the work.

The bid of $304,327 from MacIair Asphalt Co., Inc., of Collinsville, was $34,327 higher than the state estimate of $270,000 to do the work. The Illinois Department of Transportation now will decide whether to accept the bid or to reject it and seek new bids for the job.

The project was among 126 highway and bridge improvement projects throughout the state for which bids were opened Friday. Also included in the letting were $8 million for airport projects and $569,000 for mine reclamation projects.

Other area projects for which bids were opened in Springfield included demolition of the eastbound and westbound weight stations on Interstate 70-55 a mile west of Collinsville, Stutz Excavating of Alton had the low bid at $32,440, below the state estimate of $40,000.

McMath Construction of Waterloo was the low bidder for construction of a storm water pump station and retention basin on Interstate 255 near Caseyville. The bid of $97,925 was below the engineer's estimate of $111,000.

The low bid for cleaning and painting the dual steel bridges on Interstate 55-70 near East St. Louis was submitted by Busch & Latta Painting Corp., of St. Louis for $146,215, below the state estimate of $176,700.

CAM Construction, Ltd., of Granite City was the low bidder on two other area projects. Dron bid $19,770 for the installation of electronically-controlled security gates at Civic Memorial Airport near Bethalto and $36,931 for the installation of traffic signals at the intersection of Poplar Street and Broadway in Highland. There was no engineer's estimate available on the airport project and Dron's bid on the Highland signals was below the state estimate of $45,800.

Declare county a disaster area

Gov. James Thompson has declared six counties — including Madison County — disaster areas following tornadoes, heavy rains and flash floods throughout the area.

The disaster counties other than Madison are St. Clair, Greene, Jersey, Macoupin and Macon, which is in Central Illinois.

Thompson said that more counties might be added as damage information is received by the Illinois Emergency Services and Disaster Agency.

Nelson Hagnauer, chairman of the Madison County Board and a board representative from Granite City, declared Madison County a disaster area a week ago. Unofficial totals of damage in the county were placed at $8 million, with up to $3 million in Granite City already assessed.

In declaring the county a disaster area, Hagnauer said that significant damage at the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center, the Tri-City Regional Port Authority and the A.O. Smith Corp. plant.

Several homes in the Country Club Estates area in Edwardsville were damaged, as was the Sunset Hills Country Club. The Madison County Nursing Home was damaged, with most of its roof blown away and more than 20 windows broken or destroyed.

At Edwardsville Estates, which was devastated by a tornado two years ago, several mobile homes were destroyed. The tornado also hit the Montclair subdivision area in Edwardsville.

The National Weather Service said 11 tornadoes touched down throughout the state Sunday causing more than $20 million in damage in the six disaster designated counties.

Officials say damage estimates could be much higher than present totals.

Charged with molesting an 8-year-old girl

William Donald Woods, 29, of 4505 Vine St., was arrested at his home Thursday night and was charged with an aggravated count of taking indecent liberties with an 8-year-old girl over a period of time.

Woods was arrested after the Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation, assisted by Illinois State Police Troopers, served a search warrant on Woods' home.

He was taken to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville and appeared before Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill Friday morning.

Judge O'Neill signed warrants and set Woods' bond at $150,000.

A DCI spokesman said that taking indecent liberties with any child under the age of 9 is under the aggravated statutes and is a Class X felony.

File DUI charge against GC man

Robin D. Wilbur, 33, of 2617 Rock St., was charged with driving under the influence (DUI) of alcohol last week, following an incident in the 2500 block of Iowa Street.

Initially officers were called to that location by a woman who wanted a man to leave her home. Wilbur was seen on the street nearby and was advised to leave his vehicle and walk the short distance to his own residence.

At first he agreed, reports stated, but Wilbur allegedly was seen by officers returning to a parked truck and driving away. He was halted at 26th and Iowa streets and taken into custody.

At police headquarters, Wilbur allegedly declined to take a breathalyzer test. He appeared in court, pleaded innocent and asked for a jury trial. Bond was set at $2,500.

not been vaccinated, the control center will quarantine the animal and keep it under observation, he said.

If bitten by a wild animal, Brookman urged that the animal be kept in sight until authorities arrive to confine it. There is no cure for rabies, Brookman said. Once contracted, it slowly destroys the victim as it progresses.

Successful treatment can be provided through a series of shots, which are painful and costly. "The old method" consists of about 23 shots in the stomach area. Another serum can be given through about five or six shots in the arm, Brookman said.

It is important to observe an animal that has bitten someone, even if it has been vaccinated, because there are two types of rabies, one of which produces few symptoms.

"Dumb" rabies is evidenced when an animal appears lethargic and "just lays around," but shows few other symptoms. All animals with rabies will, however, "shy away from water," Brookman said.

"Active" rabies is apparent through "mad dog" type symptoms. The animal will snap at anything and heavy salivation is evident, he said.

Officials have said the rabies outbreak is due to the mild winter experienced throughout the country. Many rabid animals who would have died due to lower resistance, survived the winter.

Wild animals are the primary carriers of the disease. Skunks are the main carrier, Brookman said. Raccoons and foxes also carry the disease. Epidemics, believed to be perpetrated by raccoons, have been reported in the Georgia-Florida area, Washington, D.C., including nearby counties in Maryland and Virginia, and in the Great Plains from Texas to Montana.

"We heavily stress that owners vaccinate animals," Brookman added again. "By all means get to a vet if the animal has not been vaccinated."

He said that vaccinations are not 100 percent effective, but provide the best means for combating the disease. "They're about 99 percent effective," he said.

Possums, rats and mice do not carry rabies and have an apparent natural immunity to the disease, he said.

College quality

An NCA focus visit is smaller in scope than last week's visit. No more than two evaluators visit a campus for no more than two days. Only the two issues mentioned will be studied.

The North Central Association of Colleges and Schools is a voluntary accrediting association for secondary and postsecondary institutions. It works to improve and maintain the quality of education through evaluation and accreditation.

BAC will receive a written report of last week's findings this summer.

Among the most joyful members of the ten-year accreditation were BAC President Bruce R. Wissore, Instruction Vice-President Wayne Clark, Board Chairman Patricia Bartokas and Vice-Chairman Avery Schermer.

They were at a meeting here Thursday afternoon and were joined by Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler to inspect a sheet cake suitably inscribed for the occasion.

A second cake was prepared for the main BAC campus.

Members of the team commended the college for "meeting its mission of providing a quality education at a reasonable cost to students and taxpayers."

The team noted "excellence of achievements of the student body, the highly qualified and effective staff, the excellent financial position of the college, and the sophisticated processes that have been developed for monitoring the college's financial resources."

College personnel including representatives of the faculty union, the independent faculty organization, the custodial-maintenance union, the secretaries and the administration joined Dr. Wissore in announcing the successful accreditation report.

"We're extremely proud of the results of the NCA visit. It's a great honor," Pres. Wissore said.

"Only a handful of the Illinois community colleges receive this kind of accreditation. Very few receive maximum accreditation now because of the difficult economic times."

"Many good colleges cannot look as far as 10 years into the future, say that they produce quality education now, and assert they are stable enough to predict they'll be producing the same high quality for the next decade."

"A recent study of colleges and universities showed that BAC is the largest institution of higher education in the St. Louis metropolitan area."

"That fact, combined with the stamp of quality we have received from North Central, is something everyone associated with BAC can be proud of."

Members of the evaluation team coming here last week were community college representatives from throughout the U.S. who are familiar with the purposes and functions of two-year colleges.

In addition to endorsing the Granite City facilities at the northern edge of the district, the visitors commended BAC for studying the possibility of expanding day classes in the southern portion of the district.

Accreditation permits students to transfer their credit hours to most four-year institutions. Factors in qualifying for accreditation are financial soundness and ability to accomplish the educational mission.

A new survey by the Illinois Community College Board shows that BAC teachers are the highest paid community college teachers in the state, averaging $30,569 a year compared to a 39-district average of $26,062. Extra pay for summer courses and extracurricular activities was not considered in the study.

Base salary for a BAC teacher with a master's degree and no teaching experience is $19,863, also the highest in the state. Such a teacher with 15 years' experience gets $29,800.

Early this year, 124 BAC teachers agreed to a wage freeze for the 1983-84 year, effective July 1.

Justice-Brimbery

"The government is taking these two people's word (Meras and Miller), and they are actually co-conspirators in this fraud just like Tom was and I was."

Why would her own brother not tell the truth? "I think he's afraid of going to jail. He knows how much the government wants Tom." She has not talked to her brother since the brokerage collapsed, she acknowledged.

High living and spending sprees were "fun" but "not worth it," on balance, she said.

"On a typical day, she would have $10,000 in her purse with which to shop, she told those at the news conference.

She at first thought Brimbery might have inherited money but, by 1976, he had told her he was "adjusting the accounts" at Stix & Co., she admitted. They have been married 16 years.

"I've always had deep faith in God. I don't think anybody could be fully prepared for what's happened to me in the last year and a half."

"I knew it was going to end. I knew we weren't going to get away with it. There was nothing I could do to stop it. After awhile, you don't think about. You ride the good times; you got to ride the bad times."

"What we did was wrong but I don't believe my children should be punished for that." She voiced hope that the youngsters can grow up in a stable way of life, and added that she is glad the family will not be in hiding or on the run.

Asked if she felt any remorse about the tattle, she said, "I want to die. How would you feel knowing that everybody's out of work?"

"It's hard to live. You know what it's like to know you've destroyed everybody's life?" She disagreed totally with prosecutors' contention that about $2,700,000 has not been accounted for.

"There is no $2.7 million or $2.7 million somewhere," she said. All the money they obtained was spent on homes, living costs and Las Vegas gambling trips.

Agreeing that she has been residing at a $480,000 home near Phoenix, she said she is utilizing funds obtained from the sale of excavating equipment.

MHC-Mendoza downs Indiana in second OT

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — After a tumultuous week of Illinois McGuire Cup competition, the Mexican Honorary Commission team of Granite City defeated Indiana's state champions, the Dynamo Football Club, 1-0 in overtime Sunday to advance in regional competition.

The victory pits MHC-Mendoza against the winner of the Ohio South vs. Kentucky matchup which also took place yesterday. Whatever the outcome of that game, Granite City will not host this weekend's contest. Details of this weekend's game will be printed in this Thursday's Press-Record.

The Granite City squad battled the Indiana state champs at the Army Depot soccer fields through 90 minutes of regulation time and nearly 22 minutes of overtime play before All-American Steve Trittschuh perfectly defended Fritz Brenner's corner kick off his head into the goal. The game's only goal came at the 111:52 mark, 6:52 into the second overtime.

Indiana's goalkeeper, Doug Cohn, was out of position to save the header. The deflected shot, which went to his left, eluded his outstretched hands.

Throughout most of the first half, Granite City controlled the ball, doing everything but putting the ball in the net. The Dynamo, on the other hand, displayed moments of individual greatness, besting the Indiana state champions, but they lacked the team efforts to win the game. Dynamo coach Tjepke Ledebor explains:

"We lost to a skilled team," Ledebor said. "We have a few skilled players, but everyone on this team we played today is skilled. That was the difference."

Ledebor said the reason his athletes are not as skilled as those of Granite City's was because in Indiana they lack quality competition.

"We can play many teams in Indiana, but we will benefit little from it. To get better we need to play the best teams. Teams like this one," Ledebor concluded.

1983 McGuire Cup

The Dynamo Football Club team, from Monrovia, which is about 20 miles west of Indianapolis, concluded its season with a 6-1 record. Last Sunday, the Dynamo defeated Evansville 3-2 for the Indiana state championship.

Granite City won its state championship in somewhat a different manner.

Last Thursday, May 5, the Granite City squad battled the Alton Optimists squad for the Illinois United States Youth Soccer Federation (McGuire Cup) championship. Although Granite City trailed by two goals at one point, it managed to tie the game at two apiece at the end of regulation play.

So, like Sunday's tied game, at the end of regulation, the game went into two 15-minute overtimes. Or at least it was supposed to.

Alton managed to take a 3-2 lead in the first overtime, but before the second overtime expired, the game was called because of darkness. USYSF officials annulled the contest and rescheduled the game for Saturday, 8 a.m., at Granite City's Army Depot soccer fields.

But, at 8 a.m. Saturday, the Alton squad didn't come. At 9 a.m., the latest the game could begin, there was still no sign of Alton.

At 9:15 a.m., the referees awarded Granite City a goal. At 9:30 a.m., the referees awarded Granite City another goal, and at last, the game and the Illinois championship had been decided. MHC Mendoza was awarded the 3-0 victory and the right to face the Dynamo on Sunday.

Why didn't Alton show up on Saturday? Charles

Nasello, of Alton Optimists' coach said, "We had no intentions of playing."

According to Nasello, since neither he nor Ruben Mendoza, MHC-Mendoza coach, could agree on a new time or place for the game, it was his understanding the winner would be decided with a coin flip. Nasello said he heard that from Klaus Ruegge, Illinois president of the USSF.

But Pete Richardson, Illinois McGuire Cup Commissioner, would not consent to a coin toss. So, Saturday's game was on. And Nasello said he knew of Richardson's decision, but still chose not to show, hoping to make Thursday's 3-2 victory for Alton official. It was for that reason that Nasello called most of his players (the ones he could reach) and told them not to show. Those who he couldn't reach came ready to play on Saturday.

One athlete from Alton who was there, Tim Evans, wasn't too happy about his coach's decision to forfeit the game.

"I just don't understand it," Evans said. "We want to compete and play the game, but it seems there are those who would rather not. I'm very disappointed."

Evans, whom he got off the shaft, Nasello said, "I don't know, scored Alton's second goal in last Thursday's game."

Mendoza, like Evans, was disappointed that Alton didn't show.

"I can't believe this. Soccer is for the kids. How much good do you think he did for his kids by not showing today," Mendoza said.

Wouldn't it have been better to show up and play the game and then worry about appealing it?

"No, I don't think so," Nasello said. "Had we gone to Granite City there would have been a brawl. By the time the game ended Thursday tempers were flaring. I wanted to try and avoid any confrontation."

Despite the forfeiture, Nasello said he plans to appeal the decision to annul last Thursday's game.

"Our kids feel like they won that game fairly. A lot of kids feel that way about the game," Nasello said. "I don't have anything against Granite City and its athletes."

My quarrel is with the Cup people."

Although Saturday's scheduled game, and the things that preceded it were a fiasco, Sunday's game was as exciting and as aggressive game of soccer as it could have been.

And often in aggressive soccer contests there are yellow cards. And this one was no exception. Sunday there were four—two to Indiana and two to Illinois. Indiana's Vince Ganzberg (4) was issued a card at the 84:35 mark for kicking and Simon Kather (9) for pushing at 96:20.

Granite City's yellow cards recipients were Trittschuh at 92:22 and Barry Grote at 109:48. Both were issued for over aggressiveness.

Despite the aggressive game, Granite City hammered at the Indiana goal—in all they shot 26 times at Cohn and the net behind him. Indiana managed slightly more than half as many, 15.

Despite the lopsided scoring attempts, Indiana's striker and winger, Mike Sloane (10) and Marty McElroy (13), kept Indiana close. The Dynamo's midfielder-stopper, Manoj Khettry (5), was just that—a stopper—and a thorn in Granite City's side all afternoon, breaking up play after play in the midfield.

It was Khettry who most impressed MHC coach Mendoza.

"I think we controlled the game well, but it was their number five (Khettry) who kept them in the game."

He's a good midfielder.

Steelers down West; roll up 12 straight win

GRANITE CITY — Granite City North probably would have been content with one victory with Belleville West in Saturday's double-header, but the Steelers are content with every victory they get.

The Steelers swept the non-conference double-header with the Maroons, winning the first game 7-3 and the second game 7-5. Combined with a 10-8 10-inning victory over Greenville Thursday, North increased its record to 14-3 this season.

North puts its 12-game winning streak on the line in a 4 p.m. game today in Alton. North's last loss was a 14-4 decision to Edwardsville April 7.

"I think we can say now we can play with anyone in the area now," North Coach Bob Stegemeyer said. "Our pitching has really come along, and our hitting and defense has been tough all year, but all of the teams we have left are going to be tough."

In addition to Alton, North has Belleville East, O'Fallon, Triad and Belleville Althoff left on the schedule. All four have winning records, and East, O'Fallon and Triad are in first place in the Southwestern, Mississippi Valley and Gateway East conferences respectively.

No one's hitting was more timely than Rod Hessler's in the double-header with the Maroons. Hessler, North's first baseman, was 6-for-7 in the two games and made important contributions in almost all of North's scoring rallies.

Hessler gave an indication of what his day would be like in North's three-run second inning in the first game. Hessler hit a home run to open the scoring.

Brian Levin walked a stroke-second, went to third on a sacrifice fly scored on Daren DePew's single. Dave Sheikah doubled a single which scored DePew when the West catcher dropped the ball on the play at the plate.

Terry Rujuwatt singled in the third and scored on Levin's single for another run.

In the fifth inning, Hessler opened with a single. Dave Gebhardt, who ran for Hessler, went to third on an error on a grounder by Levin. Keith Coakley walked to load the bases, and Gebhardt scored on an error. Coakley and Benny Nolan scored on Kevin Patterson's single.

North's timely hitting gave junior Dan Whitsell his fifth victory of the year. Whitsell, 5-0, is one of three North undefeated pitchers. Jim Bannan and Greg Levin are both 4-0 this season.

Meanwhile, Sam Tate picked up his first victory of the season in the second game. Tate went the entire seven innings.

"Sam pitched much better than he has in other games. I'm glad he went the whole game," Stegemeyer said.

Tate got some help from his teammates, who had 12 hits, and the Maroon defense, which committed six errors.

After the Maroons picked up three runs in the top of the first, the Steelers in the bottom half of the inning. DePew led off with a single, and Steve Trittschuh drove him home with a double and scored on a throwing error on the play. Hessler hit a double and scored on an error.

In the fifth inning, Hessler opened with a single, advanced on Nolan's sacrifice bunt. Coakley hit a single, and Hessler scored on an error with the play. Coakley scored on Patterson's single.

In the sixth, Rujuwatt reached on an error and went to third on another error. Trittschuh's single drove him in. Nolan reached on an error, and North tied the double split. Although Nolan was thrown out for the third out, Trittschuh scored before the tag.

"I was real pleased that we've won 12 in a row, and won two from West. Neither teams' pitching was outstanding, but our defense was better than their's, and we played defense like we have every year," Stegemeyer said.

West is 12-5 after the double-header.

"With our prom on Friday night, I was skeptical about how we would play. We made two errors early in the first game, and I thought we were in for a long day, but when we got back and the kids played a lot of baseball Saturday," Stegemeyer said.

At one point of Thursday's game, North trailed Greenville, a Class A school, 8-0, but North scored two runs in the fifth and six in the sixth to put the game into extra innings.

The big hit of the sixth inning was Trittschuh's single, which brought home two runs, including the tying run. Trittschuh produced the winning runs in the 10th inning with a home run. DePew hit a single prior to the home run.

Greg Levin was the winning pitcher (3200 meters) in the eighth inning. Ray Takmanjan started and pitched four innings, and Patterson pitched three innings prior to that.

CENTRALIA — It was another rough day for all three area high school track teams, Granite City North, Madison and Granite City South, at the Orphan Relays Saturday.

The Steelers only placed in two events, the 3200 meters and the distance (3200 meter) medley. Jim Robertson was fourth in the 3200 meters with 10:17, and Robertson was joined by Darren Bernau, Doug Limbaugh and David Tatum in the medley to finish

GEC baseball race tightens

CAHOKIA — Granite City North's chances of gaining the title for the Gateway East Conference championship became much better Thursday when last place Cahokia upset first place Edwardsville 4-1.

However, to gain a piece of the title, North will still have to beat Belleville Althoff May 17 in Belleville. North cannot share the title otherwise, and the Steelers cannot win the GEC by themselves.

The key game to decide who will win or share the title is Thursday when Edwardsville plays at Althoff. If Edwardsville, 5-2 in the GEC, wins and North beats Althoff, North will share the title with Althoff.

The Steelers' 10-2 and 1-4 losses to Edwardsville in April cost the Steelers "a chance to win the title by themselves."

Only one Warrior, Paul Whitworth, placed. He was fifth in the pole vault with a 12-6 jump, about a foot off his average jump.

South's Paul Smith and North's Scott Cant tied for sixth in the high jump with 6-0 but neither scored points for the teams.

East St. Louis (Sr.) won the meet, and Centralia, Mt. Vernon and Edwardsville fought for the other four spots.

Leonard was second in the 110 hurdles with a 15.8 second race. Madison's frosh-soph 400 meter relay team, Rouzel Porter, Brian Brown, Jackie Walker and Terrence Hicks, was third in 47.5 second, and the varsity 800 meter relay, Avery Blockton, Derrick Jackson, Charles Fuller and Leonard, was third in 1:35.7.

Madison's varsity 400 meter relay and the frosh-soph 800 relay were both in fourth place.

Meanwhile, Madison's George just off the winning mark of O'Fallon. In addition, Jeff Limbaugh, Prengel, John Kindle and Darren Bernau teamed to finish third in the sprint medley in 3:53.

North's two-mile and mile relay teams were also third. Long was third in the triple jump with a 42-3 effort.

to put anything more together in the last four innings.

Warrior Jim Fletcher pitched three and a third innings and took the loss. Warrior pitcher gave up 13 hits, but South's defense prevented more runs from scoring.

Elmore was 2-for-3 in the first game, and Mitchell was 2-for-4.

In the second game, South jumped on top quickly with Mitchell's three-run homer being the big blast of the game, but the rain nullified that game.

Warriors win one, lose two in weekend tourney

CAHOKIA — Bethalto edged host Cahokia in the championship game, 5-4, to win the Cahokia Invitational Softball Tournament Saturday.

Herrin took third place and Casey finished fourth in the tourney, with Belleville West coming in fifth and East St. Louis Lincoln sixth. Edwardsville was the consolation winner.

The Warriors of Granite City South won one game and lost two over the two days. In their opening game Friday, they lost to Mascoutah, 12-2. On Saturday morning, they defeated Alton by a score of 12-7, but they lost Saturday afternoon to Lincoln, 10-6.

Friday's contest was marred by strong winds and poor fielding by the Warriors. Janice Annan, Mascoutah's pitcher, held the Warriors to just one hit, striking out six and walking only two.

"Annan had good control and good speed," said Pat Yates, coach of the Warriors. "She would get ahead of our hitters and then take something off of the ball."

Trojan hurlers embarrassed by Dupo, Gibault

MADISON — If losing a no-hitter 7-1 isn't hard enough for the Madison Trojans to take, losing 28-6 the next night has to be even worse.

On Thursday, Dupo's Kent Dell pitched a no-hitter to lead the Trojans past Madison 7-1 Thursday. On Friday, Waterloo Gibault crushed the Trojans 28-6.

Trojan Coach Ron Crader declined to discuss the games after Friday's loss.

Although the Trojans managed to get an unearned run off Dell in the fourth inning, they could not pick up a single hit. Meanwhile, Madison's Pat Wilson pitched a four-hitter, but seven errors by the Trojans put Madison out of the game.

Granite South Warriors

The Indians tallied 12 times on 11 hits, scoring four runs in the first inning, five more in the third, two in the fourth and winning with a run in the bottom of the fifth. Audrey Dee hit a two-run homer in the fourth inning for Mascoutah. Lei Lutali and June Simonides also drove in two runs apiece.

South was handicapped by seven errors, many of which led directly to Indiana's victory. John Brawley hit a single, and their two runs were scored in the fourth inning by Theresa Soellner and Karen Sykes. Sykes delivered the only Warrior hit of the game.

"We didn't handle the bats well," Yates said after Friday's game. "Mascoutah got their runners into scoring position and got the hits when they needed them."

The game against Alton featured 12 hits by the Warriors, including a three-run homer by left fielder Kathy Juhasz. Soellner drove in two runs with a pair of sacrifice flies and Michelle Staggs was credited with the victory.

The Warrior bats, however, once again fell silent in the afternoon contest as the Warriors managed just one hit and made several costly errors in losing 10-0.

"We were pleased to beat Alton," said Yates. "But then, it was really disappointing that we couldn't hit the ball again against Lincoln. We lost to a good team."

Granite City North was slated to be in the tournament also, but after delaying the tourney a week because of rain, North dropped out because of its prom Friday night.

Last week, the Steelers dropped their season record to 1-5 with a 28-6 loss to visiting Wood River.

This afternoon the Steelers and the Warriors will square off at 4 p.m. in a rescheduled game from last week. The game, hosted by South, will be in Wilson Park adjacent to Niedringhaus School.

Madison pitchers Fred Smith, Valente and Jim Robertson were the only Warriors to get hits in the game. A strong wind from the south blew balls far into left and center field, making it difficult for the fielders to judge the flight of the ball.

After the losses, Madison is 2-8 for the season. The Trojans take on Highland St. Paul Wednesday at 4 p.m. in the final home game of the year. St. Paul is one of the two teams Madison has defeated this year, the other being Venice.

Warrior girls finish second in GEC track meet

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — It was almost a foregone conclusion that Edwardsville would win the Gateway East Conference girls track meet Thursday. The only real battle in the meet was for second place.

Since Althoff doesn't have a deep track team, it had to be either Granite City North or Granite City South. South won the battle for second place with 63 points while North had 46 points.

Edwardsville won the meet with 97 points, far ahead of the rest of the field. Althoff was last with 34 points, and Cahokia did not field a girls track team this year.

"I was very happy with our girls," South girls' coach Gary Morgan said. "We put in some good races today and came in one-two in a couple of events which allowed us to beat North."

The one area which South pulled a surprise was the 400 meter dash. The Warriors pulled a one-two finish in that event. Trish Skinner won the race in 1:03.6, while teammate Lisa Wiser was second with 1:04.2.

Lora Wiser, Lisa's twin sister, and Michelle Shoemaker pulled off a one-two finish in the 3200 meters. Lora ran it in 11:52.6, a new conference record, while Shoemaker ran the race in 13:05. In addition, Lora won the 1600 meters in 5:27.3, another GEC record.

In the 800 meters, Ann Skinner took third with 2:33.5 and Mary Romine took fourth with 2:40.7 for the Warriors. While South was raking up the points in those events, North could only come up with three fifth places in those events.

"That was the difference in the track meet right there," North Coach Harry Lang said. "You just can't stay with a team if you can only come up with a few points."

Meanwhile, South was adding points more often than the Steelers did in the other events. Trish Skinner took second in the shot put with a 31-2 throw and Loretta Cox was third for South with 28-6. North's Debbie Brandt was fifth with 27-9.

Lisa Adams came up with a third place in the high jump for South with a 4-11 leap. North's Michelle Poyner was fourth with 4-7.

Meanwhile, North had some surprises too. Traci Rose was a surprise winner in the 100 meter dash by running it in 13.1 seconds. Paula Rozyski took advantage of another surprise, a false start by Edwardsville's Mary Kay Hyten, to win the 100 low hurdles in 13.9 seconds. Rozyski was second to Hyten in the 200 hurdles with a 31.5 second run.

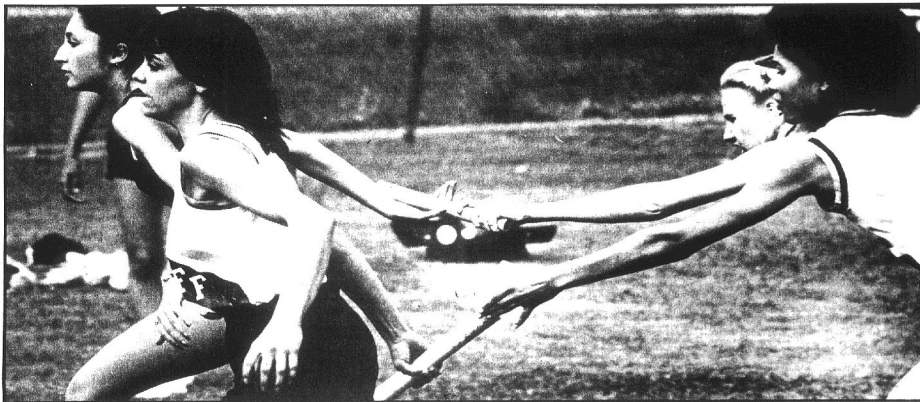

Brandt finished second to Edwardsville's Theresa Johnson in the discus. Brandt threw 114-1/2 while Johnson threw 119-0.

Other girls from South who placed in the meet were Dawn Finn, who was third in the 100 hurdles and fourth in the 200 hurdles, Robin York who was fifth in the long jump, Cox and Connie Williamson who were fourth and fifth in the discus and Karen DeWitt who was fifth in the 200 meters.

South's 1600 meter relay team, Lisa Wiser, Trish Skinner, Ann Skinner and Romine, were second with 4:22.7.

Other girls from North who placed in the meet were Angie Novosil, fifth in the 800 meters; Emily McWhorter, third in the 100 meter and first in the 400 meters; Sandra Brown, third in the discus; and Dawn Young, fifth in the 1600 meters.

North's 400 meter relay, Rose, Rachel Coleman, Donna Broyles and Traci Cottrell, was second with 53.6.

AHEAD BY A NOSE. During this handoff in the 800 meter relay race during Thursday's Gateway East Conference girls track meet, Granite City South appears to be ahead by a few inches over

Steelers roar back to defeat Greenville 10-8

By STEVE WHITWORTH
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City North Steelers spotted the Greenville Comets an 8-0 lead and then came roaring back for a 10-8 victory in 10 innings Thursday.

Senior third baseman Steve Trittschuh ended the contest in the bottom of the tenth with a two-run homer over the fence in left center field. The blow was his third hit of the game and he drove in four runs in all.

The game moved quickly through the first three innings with each team managing just one hit. North was unable to solve Greenville's senior hurler, Jeff Sandifer, and the Comets had just as little luck with senior Ray Takmanjan of the Steelers.

The Comets opened up the scoring in the top of the fourth. Catcher Larry Lucco led off with a double and scored one out later of third baseman Steve Dunne's single. Center fielder Dave Zahner doubled and Takmanjan hit Sandifer in the head with a pitch to load the bases. Kevin Jordahl ran for the Comet pitcher.

Shortstop Mike Spies followed with a bunt down the first base line. The squeeze brought in a run as Steeler first sacker Rodney Hessler could only make a play on Spies and tagged him out.

Second baseman Doug Morgan kept the inning alive when he drew a walk to load the bases again. Right fielder Steve Booth followed with a single to score one run and increase the Comet lead to 3-0.

First baseman Matt Brown then delivered the big blow of the inning with a bases-clearing double to make the score 6-0.

Sandifer again held the Steelers scoreless in the bottom of the fourth and North sent in senior Kevin Patterson to pitch the top of the fifth. He gave up a leadoff single to left fielder Pat Flanagan before retiring the next two batters. Sandifer then helped himself with a high fly ball that cleared the fence over the 340-foot mark in left center, giving the Comets an 8-0 lead.

The Steelers, however, began to chip away in their half of the fifth as they found a weakness in Greenville's game. Sandifer was suffering from a lack of mobility due to an off-season knee injury, while Nolan exploited his inability to field his position.

Hessler bunted his way on to lead off the inning, but he was out on second as shortstop Brian Levin's bunt bounced right to Sandifer, allowing him to make the play at second. Levin moved to second on an errant pickoff throw, but designated hitter Keith Coakley's bunt was caught in the air by Sandifer for the second out.

Left fielder Benny Nolan followed with a walk. Patterson singled, driving in Levin and moving Nolan to third. Catcher Daren DePew followed with a bunt and beat the throw to first, while Nolan scored. The Steelers loaded the bases, but Sandifer retired Trittschuh on a line drive to center and the score remained 8-2.

The Steelers exploded again in the sixth. Right fielder Terry Rujawitz led off with his third home run of the season, a blast to right center. Hessler singled and Levin walked and Sandifer gave way to Comet reliever Dave Short. Coakley then bunted to the mound, but Short threw the ball wildly to first and Hessler scored. Nolan grounded out, but Levin scored on the play. Patterson was robbed of a hit when Comet shortstop Spies speared his whistling line drive.

DePew kept the inning alive with a single to make the score 8-6. Center fielder David Sheikh singled him to third and alertly took second when the Comets tried to throw the lead runner out.

Greenville then relieved with junior Jeff Brauns. Trittschuh greeted him with a single that scored both runners and tied the score at 8-8. Brauns finally retired Hessler to end the inning.

Patterson and Brauns held their respective opponents scoreless in the seventh and sent the game into extra innings. In the top of the seventh, Rujawitz made a diving catch of a ball hit over his head for the third out. Flanagan of the Comets went to fence in the bottom of the seventh to haul down Coakley's long fly.

Both teams continued to play good defense in the extra innings and stifled several threats. Trittschuh turned in a sparkling play in the top of the eighth with one out and a Comet on first. Brown bunted the ball off Steeler reliever Greg Levin, but Trittschuh charged and dove to catch the ball in the air. The Steeler third baseman rolled, sprang to his feet and doubled the runner off first.

Comet hurler Brauns kept his team in the game in the bottom of the eighth when Sheikh singled with two out and Trittschuh singled him to third. The shortstop's relay sailed over the third baseman's head and Sheikh would have scored the winning run, but Brauns was alertly backing the play up and snared the wild throw. He then retired Rujawitz to end the inning.

Greg Levin, meanwhile, retired the Comets in order in the ninth and tenth innings. Brauns of Greenville wiggled off one hook in the Steeler ninth, but DePew's leadoff single in the tenth set the stage for Trittschuh's game-winning blast one out later.

Cougars split twinbill; host NCAA tournament

EVANSVILLE, IND. — The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Cougars closed out their regular 1983 baseball season here Sunday by splitting a doubleheader with the Screaming Eagles of Indiana State University.

Coach Gary (Bo) Collins' SIUE chargers won the opener, 2-1, behind the six-hit hurling of Kent Taylor of Fairfield, Ill., and dropped the nightcap, 6-7. The split ran the Cougars' season record to 30-12.

Friday afternoon, back home in Edwardsville, the Cougars almost completely destroyed the Saints of Maryville College (St. Louis), as Granite City's Tom Greco and Effingham's St. Anthony High Brian Kabbes combined for a grand total of 10 runs batted in.

Greco's five RBIs were dressed up by his eighth fourbagger of the season, a towering 410-foot blow with two mates on base in the opening frame Friday. SIUE defeated Maryville, 17-0.

The Cougars have received word that they will host the NCAA tournament beginning Thursday, May 12. The tourney will run through Saturday, May 14 at Cougar Field.

Competing in the tourney against the Cougars will be Northwest Missouri State, Mankato State and Southeast Missouri State. Pairings have yet to be decided.

In yesterday's first game, Kent Taylor was outstanding as he shutout the Eagles with just six hits. Leading the Cougars' attack in that game were Dan Allaria, Davey Jones and Tim Gamble, all with a solo homer.

The team batting championship for the Cougars appears up-for-grabs between Greco and St. Louis' George Vogel. Both threaten to finish right at 400 for the season.

Local DAR members attend anniversary

Cottonwood Grove Chapter Regent, Mrs. Richard Schwendemann and Vice-Regent, Miss Diane Schwendemann attended the 75th Anniversary Tea of the Governor Bradford Chapter, National Society Daughters of the American Revolution, last week, in Danville, Ill.

The tea was held at the Danville Country Club and was hosted by the Danville Governor Bradford Chapter, NSDAR. Past regents, officers, and guests were greeted by Regent Mrs. William Smiley of Danville. Newly elected Illinois State Regent, Mrs. Donald Zimmerman, of Harvel, was in attendance. White marble paper weights with the official DAR insignia in the center were presented to the past regents present. Thirty-two regents have served the National Organization and the local community, it was noted. Chapter members wore white corsages and the event and music was provided continuously throughout the tea by a four string ensemble.

Memorabilia from the 75 years of continuous service to the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution was displayed and provided by Beatrice Cunningham. Mrs. Alva Heskett served as tea chairman.

Miss Diane Schwendemann, attended a Regent's Workshop held in Altamont, Ill., at the Carriage Inn. State Regent, Mrs. Donald Zimmerman conducted the workshop, and spoke on tools which are needed by the local chapter, explained committees, directed attention to deadlines, announced the DAR School Committee bus tour that will leave Oct. 15, gave the correct use of insignia. She also noted chapter visits by the state regent, invitations for special occasions, DAR speakers, program reviewing and Good Citizens.

An agenda for a proper meeting was given to each one present. The theme for the year — "Do Your Duty In All Things. You Cannot Do More. You Should Never Wish To Do Less," by Robert E. Lee was announced.

Mrs. Zimmerman stressed that leadership involved in-initiative, sensitivity, setting of goals, enthusiasm, communications, delegation of authority, community image, recognizing records and keeping accurate records of each chapter's work. DAR Days will be held Sept. 13 at the Holiday Inn in Mount Vernon and the new state officers tea will be held July 7 at Taylorville, Ill.

EXHIBITION ON TRANSFORMED HOUSES
"Transformed Houses," an exhibition organized by the Smithsonian Institution and sponsored by the center for Urban and Environmental Research and Services and the Office of Cultural Arts and University Museums at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, opens at the SIUE University Center Gallery today. Doors open at 7:30 p.m.

This photographic exhibition represents the positive steps taken by urban homeowners to reshape their houses for continued use and personal satisfaction. "In contrast to the decline and abandonment that marks many urban neighborhoods, homeowners are showing a strong local desire to preserve their communities," according to a spokesman for the Smithsonian.

"The purpose of the transformation efforts has been a nostalgic effort to hold on to the past and to improve it." Transformed houses seek to document, analyze and explain the process whereby simple, standardized houses undergo remarkable changes in color, texture and form. The major cities studies for this exhibit include New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Boston and smaller cities.

The exhibition is an SIUE 25th Anniversary event. Admission is free. Further information is available by calling 1-692-2996.

Scouting skill show Saturday

For the first time in six years, it is "Scout-rama" time in the Quad-City area. Featuring "scouting in action" displays by more than 30 posts, troops and packs, the one-day event is set for noon to 8 p.m. Saturday, May 14.

Location will be the ice rink/recreation center in Wilson Park, Granite City. Sponsor is the Uniwah District of the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America.

"We're hoping to attract not only scouting families but also many people who are not familiar with the local 'scout units,'" Leroy Stark, Scout-rama general chairman, said today. Patriotic and Indian themes will receive major emphasis.

Opening ceremonies led by C. H. Sternberg will include display of unit and American flags by all the units participating in the Scout-rama.

An American Indian camp will be set up by one of the units, and others will present Indian lore, Indian crafts and making of Indian beads.

At 4 p.m. Saturday, Cahokia Mounds Indian dancers will perform and also will discuss with local scouts how they can join the Indian dance post. The group entertains at numerous events throughout the year.

Additional displays will include conservation, first-aid, bridge building, models and rockets, camp cooking, sports, fingerprinting, medical exploring, radios and signaling, energy and sand crafts.

Target shooting skills will be tested by firing water pistols at candles and by bursting balloons with "BB" air rifles.

Refreshments will be made available during the afternoon and evening by the Granite City Park District staff.

Entries in the Scout-rama, first to be held here since 1977, are about evenly divided between explorer posts, scout troops and cub packs.

Units may set up their exhibits from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Friday or on Saturday morning. All are to be ready by 11:30 a.m.

Members of participating packs, troops and posts are selling tickets, and the $1 tickets also will be available at the door. Ticket expenses were underwritten by Hardee's of Granite City and Madison.

Children under age seven will be admitted free if accompanied by parents.

Patches are to be awarded to active ticket salesmen, and top salesmen who exceed 200 sales will be in contention for ten-speed bicycles.

Ribbons for unit flags will be awarded for outstanding activities, cleanliness, uniforms and other standards of judging.

District Scout-ramas will be held Saturday in both the Uniwah and Illini districts and Sunday, May 15, in the Kickapoo district.

Madison is scene of Elderhostel segment

Elderhostel is returning. It is a summer week of fun, field trips and learning for people who are over the age of 60 or have spouses who are above that age.

The first Elderhostel session begins at SIUE on July 10 and lasts until July 16. Participants can live at home and commute, or live at the Tower Lake apartments for the week.

There will be three courses: "beginning" with "East European Folkways Sampler," Eastern European culture, including traditional dances, songs, legends and crafts, will be taught. There will also be a trip to Madison to visit a Polish-American neighborhood and join in an authentic Polish meal and folk dancing.

The first week will continue with a course in American short stories. These will show Americans and their feelings as they were building a nation. "The Incredible World of Primates," will conclude the week by taking a look at humans and their similarities with other primates. The course will also include a visit to the St. Louis Zoo for a first-hand look at primate behavior and social afternoon.

Week number two for Elderhostel begins Aug. 7 and continues to Aug. 13. It traditionally fills up quickly, and plans for registration should be made early, according to the program sponsors.

The second week includes a look at Mississippi steamboats and showboats. Elderhostel participants will experience the glory days of the river through the works of Mark Twain and others, and enjoy an evening on the river listening to riverboat jazz and watching a traditional showboat performance.

Both Sides of the Footlights" will be a course for learning what goes on producing and presenting a theater performance.

Elderhostelers will visit with a University Theater group to learn about the world of theater backstage and enjoy a performance by the group. Class members will also have opportunities to participate and improvise onstage.

The final activity of the last Elderhostel week will be a visit to and a course about "Cahokia: The Great Prehistoric Metropolis." Class members will learn about, and walk through, an area that was inhabited by 40,000 prehistoric people over 1,000 years ago.

A field trip to Cahokia Mounds State Park will include the large mound which is famous throughout North America. Elderhostelers will trace the footsteps of an ancient people who were civilized hundreds of years before Europeans visited this continent.

Elderhostel costs $180, which includes housing and meals. "Commuters may enjoy all meals and activities for $130 and only miss the night-time accommodations.

More than 35,000 older adults participated in Elderhostels around the world last year, and 78,000 are expected worldwide this year. SIUE is one of 634 institutions offering Elderhostel.

"The sooner reservations are made for this summer's Elderhostel the better, because sessions do fill up; and participants are accepted on a first-come, first-served basis," said Reba Klenke, program coordinator.

For registration and other information, interested persons may call Mrs. Klenke in the SIUE Office of Continuing Education at 692-3210, or write to her at Box 84, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Ill., 62026.

IFT cites GC cutbacks as depriving school pupils

"If the governor and state legislature do not take action to avoid further budget cuts and recover funds lost by the schools recently, then every child in Illinois will have been cheated of a major slice of his or her future."

So saying, Robert M. Healey, president, Illinois Federation of Teachers (IFT), the state's largest teacher union, launched last week a statewide letter-writing campaign designed to persuade the legislature to approve an income tax increase to avoid further budget cuts and restore previously lost funds.

IFT leaders will be working with their local memberships and within education coalitions to generate tens of thousands of letters from teachers, their families, friends and community people interested in "preserving a viable education system in Illinois."

Healey charged that failure of the governor and the legislature to provide necessary funds would cause irreparable harm.

He noted that numerous school districts report a lack of supplies, textbooks and materials to provide minimal educational programs.

"Many districts are already skeletal in nature. They have eliminated vital programs, reduced their teaching staffs and created overloaded, overcrowded classrooms," Healey said.

"Look at Granite City — 192 teachers laid off. That means 192 fewer teachers to work with the children in that community."

"Depriving those children of these teachers is a terrible thing."

"Look at Peoria; look at Rock Island. Unfortunately, the list gets longer each day."

Responding to the view that Illinois taxpayers are being asked to pay for the overburdened, Healey pointed out that Illinois ranks 42nd in per capita state taxation and ranks 48th in state and local spending on schools.

He also said Illinois' current income tax rate (2.5 percent) is by far the lowest of the surrounding states: Iowa, 8 percent; Michigan, 4.6 percent; Minnesota, 14 percent; Wisconsin, 9.1 percent; Missouri, 4.9 percent; and Indiana, 3 percent.
